

Tests of QED in Hydrogenic Ions

J D Silver

University of Oxford, Oxford

This talk will review measurements of the Lamb shift in hydrogenic ions of medium to high Z . Problems associated with the production of the ions, and the experimental methods which can be used, will be discussed, with a description of some experiments currently under way.